The Institution

Established on August 30, 1920, the Gujarat Stree Kelavani Mandal's S.L.U. Arts & H. & P. Thakore Commerce College for Women, is a pioneering institution in the field of higher education for women. The college owes its inception to Gandhiji, who inspired prominent citizens, social leaders, educationists and freedom fighters, to initiate a special college only for women in Ahmedabad. Our founder, Shardaben Mehta, one of the first women graduates of Gujarat, began classes with just three students and today, the institution caters to the academic needs of, and provides quality education to more than 2000 students enrolled in various programmes such as B.Com, B.A, and M.Com.

We have been striving to achieve the vision of 'Empowerment of Women through Education' for almost a century and have directly assisted in the education of generations of young women, nurturing them to become capable individuals who have made their own mark in their social, professional and personal lives.

The painstaking efforts of social reformers have helped the quest for women's education scale great heights over the years. As one of the first centers for Higher Education in Gujarat, and the first women's college in Ahmedabad, the institution has twice been ranked as one of the top three Colleges in Ahmedabad by India Today magazine.

The Trust

Our Trust, Gujarat Stree Kelavani Mandal, which completed 100 years in 2018, is committed to several social initiatives supportive to women and society. It has an educational and social wing, running colleges and centers such as Family Counseling Centre, Women Guidance Centre, Multipurpose Women Welfare Centre-providing guidance to women who are victims of social exploitation and domestic violence.

About the Seminar

Since the inception of the college, the emancipation of women has made sizeable progress but the quest is far from complete. We aim to further our contribution to the nation's progress by attempting to enhance the quality of women's education. At this juncture, the present seminar is a step in the right direction.

The NAAC is an autonomous body under the University Grants Commission which, by assessing and accrediting Higher Education Institutions (HEI) in India, ensures a higher standard of quality of education across the country. The IQAC (Internal Quality Assurance Cell) in each institution attempts to implement the objectives of the NAAC in every aspect of the functioning of the college. The present seminar has been organized on 'Quality Initiatives for Empowerment of Women through Education' with the purpose of linking the quest for internal quality with the overarching aim of providing wholesome and effective instruction to women. The elaborations at this seminar could assist Higher Education Institutions in putting a fresh perspective on the correlations between women's education, institutional responsibility, academic quality and achievements of women.
